

Cocreation, distributed performances and alternative content for the big screen

Workshop

Barcelona. Institut del Teatre
10-11 de Novembre 2014

The gradual adoption of technological environments in the performing arts and the expanding of bandwidth have given rise to new forms of creative expression and space for experimentation and new business models for performing arts, reaching other spaces such as movie screens and cultural institutions with the distribution of high-definition content.

This workshop brings together tools and experiences of various cultural and academic institutions in Europe and presents the evolution of distributed environments, creative hubs and cultural broadcasting. The program has been developed considering the artists and technicians interested in co-creation, and may be of interest to teachers and programmers of cultural institutions.

La progressiva adopció d'entorns tecnològics en les arts performatives i l'ampliació de l'ample de banda han fet emergir noves formes d'expressió creativa i espais per a l'experimentació, així com nous sectors de mercat per a pantalles de cinema i espais culturals, amb la distribució de continguts en alta definició.

Aquest workshop posa en comú i presenta eines i experiències de diferents institucions culturals i acadèmiques d'Europa i fa prospectiva de l'evolució dels entorns creatius distribuïts i del broadcasting cultural. El programa s'ha elaborat pensant en els artistes i tècnics interessats en la cocreació, i pot ser d'interès per docents i programadors d'equipaments culturals.
